

Antoine BLANCHARD's Biography

Antoine Blanchard graduated from the Institut national agronomique Paris-Grignon (INA P-G), a French engineering "Grande école" in agricultural and life sciences, while earning a background in bibliometrics. He joined the IP Patent Information group of Syngenta AG, Basel, Switzerland in 2005 as a trainee in charge of patent mapping benchmarking and use for strategic decision making. He was later appointed Patent Information Specialist. Antoine is the recipient of the Brian Stockdale Memorial Award 2005 underwritten by PIUG and has published an article in "World Patent Information" about the use of stopwords in patent mapping.