

Leo WANNER's Biography

Prof. Leo Wanner received his Diploma in Computer Science from the University of Karlsruhe and his PhD in Computational Linguistics from the University of the Saarland. Currently, he is an ICREA Research Professor at the Pompeu Fabra University, Barcelona. Prior to joining the UPF, Prof. Wanner held positions at the Institute for Integrated Publication and Information Systems of the German National Centre for Computer Science, the Computer Science Department, University of Waterloo, Canada, the Information Sciences Institute of the University of Southern California, and the Intelligent Systems Institute, University of Stuttgart. Prof. Wanner's field of expertise is in Applied Computational Linguistics and Artificial Intelligence, and, in particular, in Natural Language Generation, Summarization and Paraphrasing.