

Valentin TABLAN'S Biography

Valentin Tablan is a research fellow at the University of Sheffield, working on artificial intelligence and text analytics. He has joined the GATE research group in 1999 and is one of the main authors of the world-leading GATE framework for text engineering. His main areas of research are Information Extraction and Semantic Annotation. He has worked on producing text mining systems for sources as diverse as Sumerian literary works, botanical texts, news video broadcasts, and patents and associated documents.